PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Senior Fullstack Engineer with 10 years of experience designing, building, and shipping scalable, cloud-native web applications across JavaScript/TypeScript and Python ecosystems. Experience integrating AI-driven services into production systems, architecting GraphQL and REST based APIs, and modernizing legacy platforms into event-driven, serverless architectures. Delivered features for high-traffic consumer platforms including Realtor.com and Expedia Group and has led technical interviews and cross-functional requirements gathering as a technical lead.

KEY HIGHLIGHTS

- Experience with AI-driven development to speed up the development of the lifecycle of new features.
- Delivered production AI-agent integrations using AWS Bedrock, enabling automated, conversational user interactions within a Django-based platform.
- Built GraphQL-driven React.js features and authentication flows for two of the industry's largest consumer platforms (Realtor.com, Expedia Group).
- Modernized legacy backend workflows into event-driven, serverless architectures using AWS Lambda and RabbitMQ.
- Led technical interviews and stakeholder requirements gathering as a technical lead at Advanced Mankind.
